Per Jon A Anderson of Silver Screen Stories.com, "We donate copies of each of our books to hospital's specializing in children's care. Others have requested to do the same, so we thought we would make it available to everyone."

Tough economic times only make times tougher for families, especially those with sick children. An important part of life is laughter, and happiness. Books provide a break from the realities of tough times, and illness. Silverscreenstories.com donates copies of each of their children's titles to local hospitals specializing in children's care.

www.silverscreenstories.com offers quantity discounts on the exciting book, My T-Rex, for those who would like to donate copies to a children's hospital. They are available in quantities of five or ten copies of the book. See the website for more details under the link, "Books 4 Kids".

Copies are signed by the author with a donor card attached inside each copy. The donor selects the hospital recipient of the book and the number of copies. By giving the gift of reading to children, we can all help support children in tough times of need.

Silverscreenstories.com also uses the sale proceeds towards producing the next book title that will provide free copies to hospitals providing specializing in children's care.

See the website for details on the next title, www.silverscreenstories.com
